

CHALLENGE 1

Redlining impacts life as we know it today.

The Challenge:

- Imagine you are a group of social activists. You have been lobbying for a meeting with the mayor who has agreed to meet with your group in one week to hear your concerns and review your plan of action.
- Your group must research the effects redlining is still having on your community to develop a plan of action.
- Decide who will speak on each issue you bring to the table.

Helpful Hints:

- Use an outline format to note your plan of action
- Hear everyone's ideas first and then come to an agreement
- Limit your action plan to a certain number of actions (between 5-7)

- Have a different group member speak on each action plan item